- AVEX announces the appointment of Chad Leeward to the role of Director of Sales of their new Colorado facility located at KBJC

Today AVEX announced that they will open a 20,000 square foot Colorado Sales and Service facility located at the Rocky Mountain Metropolitan Airport (KBJC) located just outside of Denver. The decision to open a Colorado facility was made after requests from the TBM community to provide service support in Colorado. AVEX is always striving to better serve TBM owners and when the request was made, AVEX management undertook a review of the best possible options for a Service Center in Colorado. After 3 months of research and careful consideration, it was decided that the TBM community, AVEX, and DAHER would be best served by AVEX opening a facility of their own in Colorado.

AVEX is pleased to offer the same high level of maintenance and attention to detail that customers have become accustomed to in California at their new KBJC facility. AVEX has recruited a group of experienced personnel to staff the Colorado facility. This group of people is made up of seasoned veterans from the Colorado area along with AVEX employees that are being transferred from Camarillo to Colorado to ensure that the AVEX culture is maintained at their new operation.

Chad Leeward will take on the Director of Sales role at the KBJC location. Leeward will help launch and manage the new 20,000 square foot sales and maintenance facility. Leeward joins AVEX bringing 15 years of experience and success in the business aviation arena.

“Once we started recruiting we were pleasantly surprised by the quality of individuals that applied for positions, and through the recruitment process our decision to open our own facility in Denver was reinforced as the right move by the quality of applicants wanting to join AVEX. When we were able to come to an agreement with Chad Leeward to spearhead the sales efforts our team became well rounded and complete. Chad has a sterling reputation and is an outstanding ambassador for the TBM. We are looking forward to great sales penetration and growth in the area under his leadership,” said Terry Winson, President of AVEX.

Leeward will help spearhead the growth of AVEX providing the high level of customer service and support AVEX is known for. His extensive knowledge of the TBM market, fine reputation, deep network and his existing relationships in the TBM Community add immediate strength and presence to the AVEX team. He possesses extensive demonstration flight experience in the Pilatus PC-12, Cirrus SR22, and DAHER TBM series of aircraft and is an accomplished pilot with over 4,000 hours total flying time in a variety of aircraft.
